
Title: necro teachings

From Azunda:

To first understand death, you must understand life. If we are to shatter the boundaries between the two, then we must understand both.

-Need to understand the anatomy of the living and how it works. "This bone moves this, another moves that, the flesh protects this, and so forth."

-Can use animals and Umbran children.

Make sketches and take notes of the observations, it will bring about understanding.

-The very purpose of necromancy is to shatter the barrier between life and death. "Life is prone to end, and death is prone to stagnance. When the pair are combined, we have the necromantic creation. The undead. It is not alive, nor is it dead.
It's both. This is why we must consider life as much a part of our work as death."
